to severe and close study. Generally, however, the difficulty under which an actress labors is the want of power of individualizing her ideas. But Miss Jones is a fortunate exception. Young, above the middle height, graceful, features delicately formed, with an eye black as ebony, and bright as steel, she possesses all the outer attributes, while

Her engagement there revived the fortunes of the theatre, which had fallen desperately low. But a little while before, at Montreal, this talented young actress was the recipient of a compliment more flattering than those awarded her at New Orleans and Washington city, because in this instance it was John Bull bending in because in this instance it was John Bull bending in == homage before Young America. On the evening of Miss Jones's benefit, an elegant coronet, composed of thirteen silver stars, was let down from the proscenium ceiling, and as the self-wave allowed prices.

MILITARY. - The officers of the volunteer regiment met on Tuesday evening at the Columbian Armory, to take into consideration an invitation from the Baltimore military to visit that city on the 13th inst., to join in the removal of the remains of Wells and McComas to their final resting place. The invitation was declined on account of other arrangements having been previously made.

New Music. -- We have received from Horace Waters No. 333 Broadway, New York, a duett and thorus enti-tled "The Angels told me so." The air is pleasing and the melody simple, and we have no doubt this song will attain much popularity. Music of this description is better appreciated by the mass of the community than the elaborate compositions of the great masters.

PAINTING .- We notice that workmen are engaged in painting the steeple of Christ Church (Episcopal) at the corner of Beall and Congress streets, Georgetown. This edifice, which was erected in 1818, remains in good condition after a service of forty years, and bids fair to outlast the present generation.

ALEXANDRIA ITEMS.—Edward B. Powell, esq., has been appointed secretary of the Potomac Insurance Company, vice Robert Jamieson, jr., resigned.

Ground was broken on Tuesday for the foundation of a new building to be erected under the auspices of the Young Catholic Friends' Society, for the use of the society and for the accommodation of the Sabbath school at-tached to St. Mary's church. This hall is to be located at the corner of Royal and Wolf streets, is to be of brick, 30 by 60 feet, two stories high, with a vestibule in front. The building is to be handsomely finished, and will be an ornament to that part of the town, where, with a few exceptions, even good houses are scarce.

We learn that the corner-stone of a new Catholic church at Fairfax Station, on the Orange and Alexandria milroad, will be laid by the Right Rev. John McGill, hishop of Richmond, on Sunday, the 12th of September with the ceremonies prescribed by the Roman Pontifical.

A line of telegraph is soon to be established along the route of the Orange and Alexandria railroad. This will be a great improvement, as by means of the telegraph collisions of trains and the loss of life and property are frequently prevented. It is stated that all the leading callroads in England are accompanied by telegraph lines. The September term of the county court for Alexandria county commences on Monday next. The justices for the term are: Turner Dixon, P. J.; J. C. Moore, W.

ST. VINCENT'S SCHOOLS.—The Day-schools attached to St. Vincent's Adjust will resume business on Westnesday next, let of September. The large addition lately made to the house atfords a flue opportunity of rearranging tile schools, and after the experience of fast year they will begin this term with very many advantages. Deter are, in fact, three distinct schools at St. Vincent's the Orphanis School, the Free School for day scholars, and the Pay School. The first is, of coirse, for the orphan inmates of the Asymun, who, in their discipline and eduration, are under the immediate care of Sisters detailed for themselves. The second, or Free School, is to meet the wants of poor children, whose parents cannot pay, and all who are thus circumstanced are carneally pressed to send their children to this school. It is entirely distinct, but just as diligently attended to as any other, the training and teaching being strictly alike in all. If the results be not always what might be desired, perhaps their children long enough at subnol. The third is the Pay School. The Ststers of Charly have a Pay School only in add of the charities required for the support of the orphanis. In this achool it is therally true that the Sisters teach, work, and earn for the orphanis, as it is also true that all who send their children there really so for contribute to support the orphanis; and if this were not so, the Sisters of Charly have a Pay School. All that is truly required for the practical purposes of life, all that constitutes a sound and thorough Socials densation, is well taught in this school; and in all the circumstances, its charitable object, its method of cultivating mind and heart, there is no more interesting or micre sinportant school for girls within the Bedriet, centilining, under a very Indicions management, comparatively little expense to parents with a full average improvement of the children.

BATH, (Me.,) Jan. 20, 1856. PROF. O. J. Wood & Co.: Gentlement: Having my attention called a few months zince to the highly beneficial effects of your hair restorative. I was induced to make application of it upon my own hair, which had become quite gray, probably one-third white; my whikeres were of the same character. Some three months rince I procured a bottle of your Hair Restorative, and used it. I soon found it was proving what thad wished. I used it about twice a week. I have since procured another bottle, of which I have used some. I can now certify to the world that the gray or white hair has totally disappeared, both on my head and face, and my hair has resumed its natural color, and I believe more soft and glossy than it has been before for twenty-dive years. I am now skirty years old; my good wife, at the age of fifty-two, has used it with the same effect.

The above notice I deem due to you for your valuable discovery. I
